Funding Older Adult Services

(See also: Federal Portals and Aging Information Sites)

Interest in finding financial assistance to initiate and support services for older adults has increased proportionately with their demographics. The Older Americans Act helps support local services, as does the Social Service and Community Development Block Grant Programs. For many non-profit organizations, more support is needed. The links below identify resources in government, philanthropy and other organizations that may be especially helpful in the development and improvement of services for low income and disabled older adults.
